Snowdon, the highest and also the finest mountain in Wales, is 3,560 feet above the sea level. The best view is from Capel Curig, and when climatic conditions are favourable is both magnificent and extensive. The surrounding peaks and ridges are hardly less majestic than Snowdon itself.

(FOR ADDRESS ONLY.)

The "Hot water post" brought me a most welcome missive, in which I send many thanks. This is just a little Sunday morning greeting, not going in the Avenue to Church. The paper by Mrs. Looker most fascinating and the glance I have already I am sure it embodies him. The Subject. From 3.30 yes! bedtime it was most pitiable. Our plans were all put aside. One of the men I's was to our British Tea Table and was coming to go a'visit. I was perfectly content. The end born. Did you get a p.p.t. of Sam Glen last Tuesday from me. Very much love from your L.S.D.
